

Southeastern Waterfront and Blue Greenway BCDC Briefing

September 5, 2019

BLUE GREENWAY

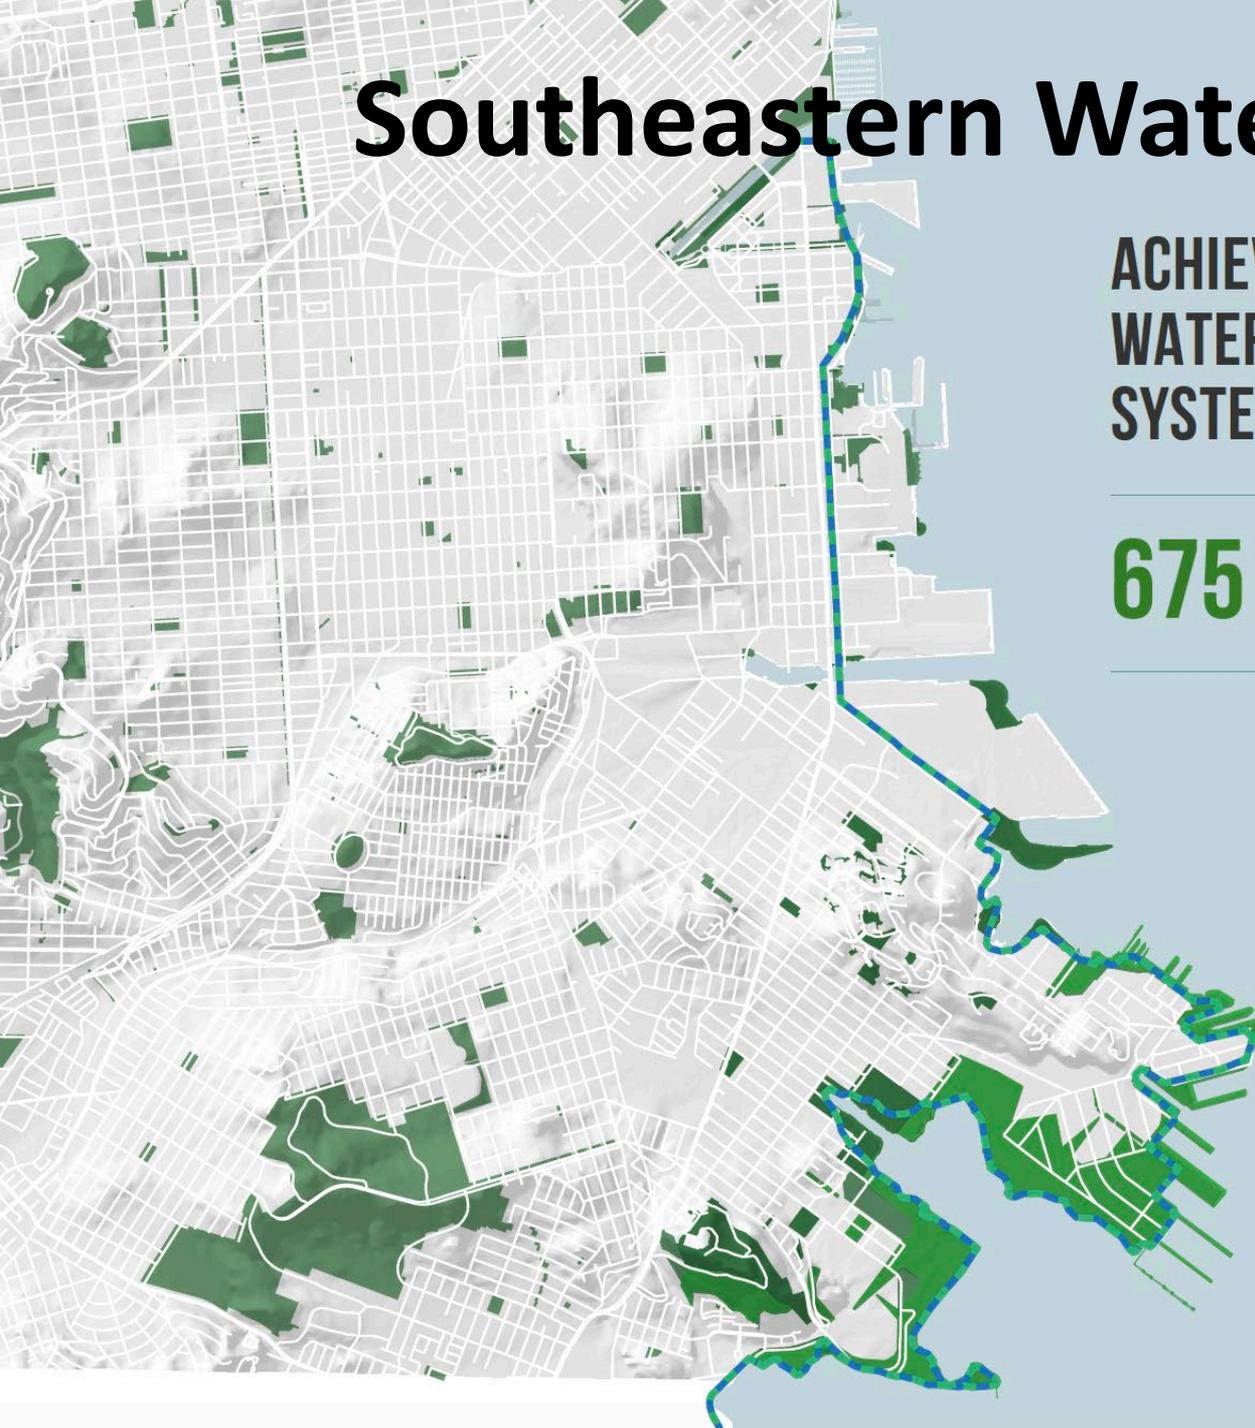

The Blue Greenway is a 13 mile network along the southeastern waterfront of San Francisco. The India Basin Waterfront will be one of a few locations along the entire network where there exists continuous waterfront access directly adjacent to the shoreline.

Waterfront Parks Vision Plan in the Blue Greenway

Southeastern Waterfront

ACHIEVING A ROBUST WATERFRONT OPEN SPACE SYSTEM

675 ACRES NEW PUBLIC
OPEN SPACE

Blue Greenway will connect open space from China Basin to Candlestick Point.

Opportunities: India Basin
could be new Crissy Field/High Line with a high degree of collaboration from a number of stakeholders.*

Challenges: Funding; strong planning effort; cohesive governance structure.*

SOUTHERN BAYFRONT

20,000 NEW HOUSEHOLDS

33% of new households will be affordable

6,700 AFFORDABLE HOUSEHOLDS

New households will include a mixture of rental apartments and for-sale condos

35,000 NEW JOBS

new jobs will be created across a mix of industries such as office, PDR and retail

520+ NEW AND RENOVATED ACRES OF OPEN SPACE

This equals half the size of Golden Gate Park and is nearly all new public open space in the City

SFPA Mission Statement

We champion, transform and activate parks and public spaces throughout the City.

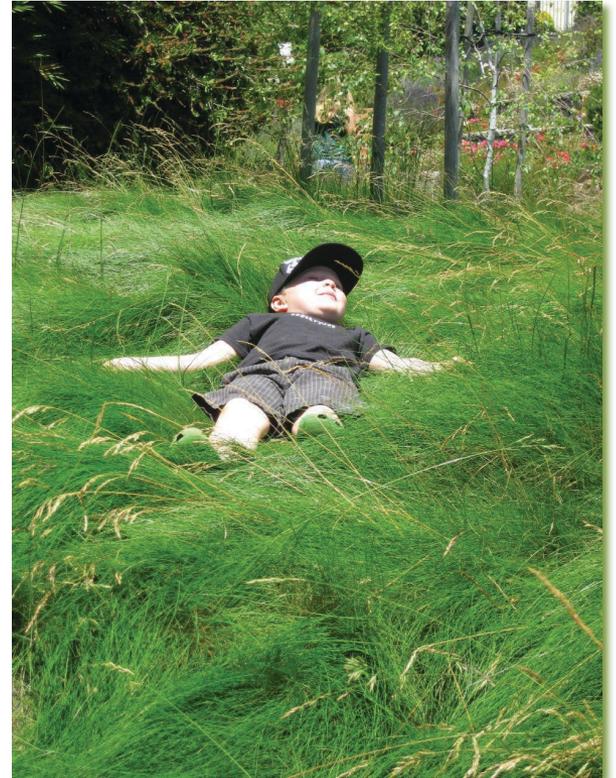

What do we do?

South Eastern Waterfront

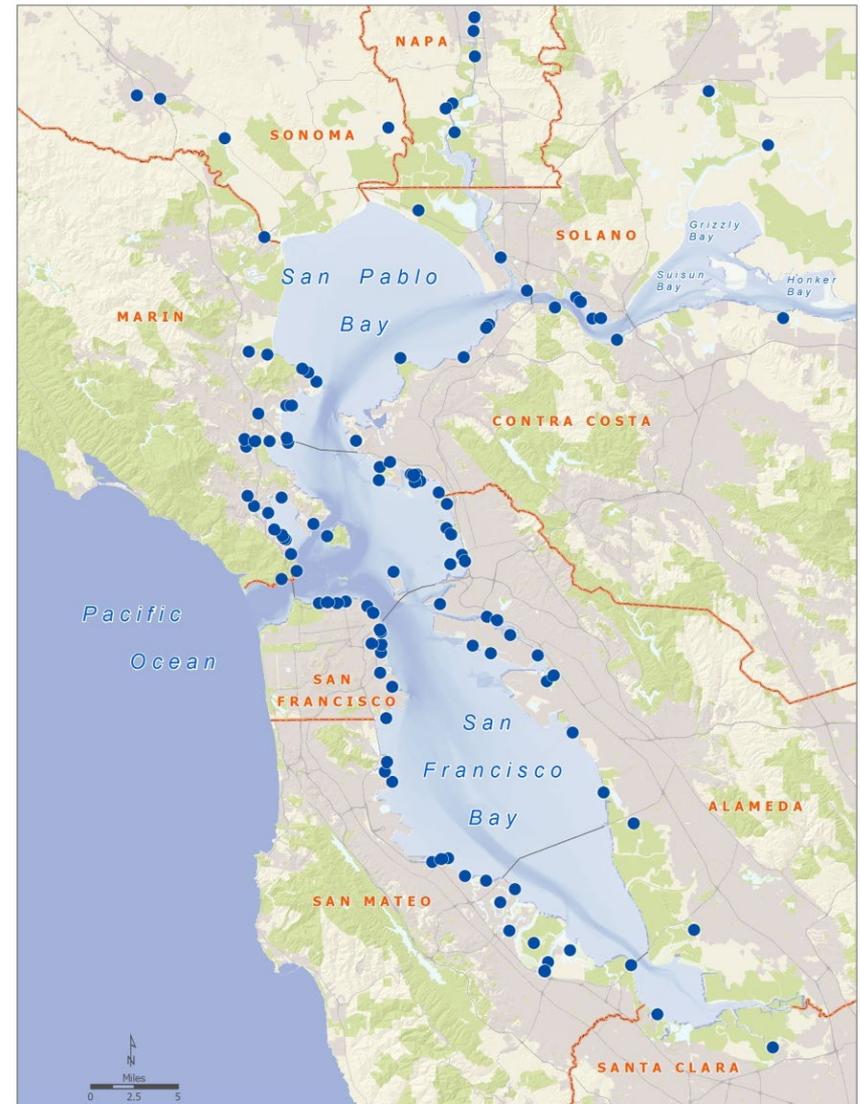

- 13-mile greenway/waterway network along SF's southern portion of the Bay Trail and Bay Water Trail
- Historical center of the city's heavy industry
- Underserved and economically disadvantaged
- Highest population of youth and children
- Environmental concerns and cleanup

Blue Greenway Vision

“Imagine a working, urban waterfront that invites public use, enjoyment of and access to the water. Imagine an environmentally sustainable and accessible shoreline, one that is safe and healthy for people as well as wildlife. Imagine a premier public open space on the Bay, a place that provides for public life, recreation and enjoyment, connects San Francisco’s eastern neighborhoods to their waterfront, and serves as catalyst for responsive and responsible development, employment opportunities, and economic vitality.”
