The conditions on the Oakland Embarcadero are severely deteriorating.

Aside from the financial impact on local businesses, there are serious risks to health and safety.

There has been shootings, gun threats, and robberies.

I realize that the City of Oakland is involved in federal litigation over efforts to remove the homeless encampments from Union Point Park.

I would hope that the court is being updated on the consequences of their ruling.

Last week one of my night laundry attendants was coming to work at 9:50 pm. She parked her car and started walking to the side door of the hotel when a man attacked her and tried to take her purse. She fought and screamed and fell to the ground. The man walked off when some of the hotel guests came out to see what was happening. (BTW, "Walked off" he did not run away.) She is ok, but banged up with bruises. We did report it to the police and a report was filed. It is getting a lot worse lately and I hope something can be done soon.

Just thought you should know about this incident too.

Thank you for all your efforts take care

Subject: Update on Union Point Park

The conditions at the park continue to deteriorate.

Squalor, crime, tenants threatened at gun point.

This is a civic disgrace.
